

Manifesting The Many In The One

On Knowing the Irreducible Complexities of Self, Other, and World

through Singular Reduction and Diversifying Plurality

(An Archetypal Epistemology of Inclusive Understanding)

Introduction

Composing an Archetypal Approach to Knowing as Conjoined Reductive and Non-Reductive Epistemologies

Chapter 1.

The Quandary of the Many in the One:
An Orientation To Parsing Singularity and Plurality in Knowing

p. 1-92

Chapter 2

Archaic Culture's Inclusive Epistemic: Initiations of Individual Identity into Psychic Plurality, Concurrent Realities, and Participation of Totality

p.93-110

Chapter 3

Artistic Creativity as Inclusive Knowing: Un-Reality in Modernist Re-presentation of Concurrent and Non-Ordinary Status

p.111-147

Chapter 4

Philosophical Non-Reduction: Rationalizing Toward Some Truths of Knowing Radically Complex Totality Inclusively

p.148-178

Chapter 5

Scientific Reductions to Non-Reduction: Materialities of Concurrent Consciousness and Plural Realities in Theories of Dynamic Totality

p.179-208

Chapter 6

Psychologies of Radical Self-Complexity: Subjectivities of Internal Fragmentation and the Participatory Dis-ease of Plural Identifications

p.209-253

Chapter 7

Mythological Theories of Non-Reductive Knowing: The Pluralizing Re-Orientations of Metamorphic Dynamics in Mythic Re-Presentation and Ritual Enactment

p.254-309

Chapter 8

Mythic Manifestations of Inclusive Consciousness: Participatory Identifications in the Dialectical Configuration of Dionysus and the Precipitating Activity of Eros

p.310-330

Chapter 9

Manifesting Many-ness in/as Oneness After Modernism: Facilitating Epistemological Diversity in the Knowing of Self, Other, and World in Relation to an Un-real Reality

p.330-401